

Supervision for Psychologists: Establishing and Developing Competence

Two day workshop presented by

- Joshua Myers
- Vanessa Burrett
- James Pope

Tues 6th June, 8:30—4:30pm

Wed 7th June, 8:30-2:30pm

2-hour follow up TBS

Abstract:

Making the jump from supervisee to supervisor can feel daunting, which is why having a solid foundation for providing supervision can be essential at this stage of psychologists' career development. This workshop is targeted at clinicians with limited experience providing clinical supervision, but who would like to feel competent and confident as they begin the provision of supervision. Training will be self-reflective, practice-driven and outcome focussed with an emphasis on development of essential skills for successful supervision. Attendees can expect to leave this workshop with enhanced competence and confidence in their ability to embark on supervising students and peers.

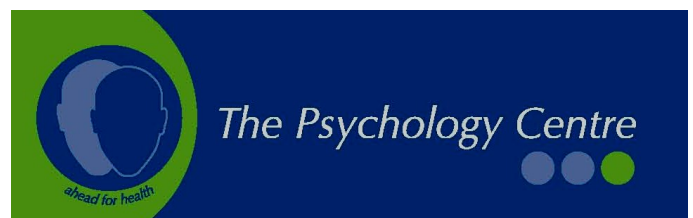

Topic Areas (consistent with best practice in clinical supervision):

- Structuring supervision to maximise effectiveness
- Building supervisee relationships through trust, partnership and mutual respect
- Providing feedback which supports supervisee growth and development

Workshop methods:

- Engaged presentation
- Case illustration
- Video examples
- Role-play practice with trainer feedback
- Implementation of supervision strategies that lead to development of core supervisory skills
